

54th Annual Conference of the International Association of Labour History Institutions
(IALHI)

11 to 14 September 2024

La Contemporaine (Paris/Nanterre)

Travel Information

Dear Participants,

The conference will take place on the campus of the University of Nanterre, located in the western suburbs of Paris.

To come by public transport, take the train (from gare Saint-Lazare) or the RER (line A, which is crossing Paris from East to West, in the direction of Saint-Gemain-en-Laye), and get off at the station Nanterre Université.

To go to La Contemporaine, exit the station from the top. Once on the esplanade, the building of La Contemporaine is immediately to the right, visible, less than a minute walk.

To reach the Max Weber building, where the conference will take place, you must leave the station from below. Once arrived on the esplanade, just go straight, and continue along the buildings, under an open gallery. The building is then on the right, about 5 minutes walk.

Attention: Nanterre Université station is located in zone 3 (outside Paris). Any trip outside Paris requires the purchase of a point-to-point ticket (Île-de-France ticket), the price of which is calculated at the station. When you buy your ticket, you must mention that you are going to Nanterre University.

You can find your way and different transport information on this site: <https://www.ratp.fr/fr>